Teaching English and technology to kids and the community.For my side project, I began volunteering at La Molinera in the fall, a technology nonprofit in Ourense. I volunteered for 6 weeks during an intergenerational technology camp. I spent the first 2 weeks helping the administrative team plan the 4 week camp as a member of the communications team. I then participated in the camp for 4 weeks. The camp was 4 hours a week, so I would estimate all together I spent about 30 hours volunteering and helping to plan and prepare. | https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=b1L8nCubaEg  |

|------------|------------------|--|---|
| Ourense    | School placement | -I am running a data science course at my school. For the past several months, students and teachers have been working in teams through the data science process, aiming to answer essential research questions. We are so excited to have begun our data analysis phase, which precedes our presentation to stakeholders phase. -CineForum: Lessons and discussions about the cultural, historical, etc. themes that American movies explore  | - Data science course: https://tannerljohnson.com/2019/04/06/everyone-should-teach-computational-thinking/ |
| Ferrol     | Other            | I am working to put together a collection of Galician recipes as there is such a strong cultural identity and history tied into food in Galicia. I plan to make an e-book that is a collection of recipes and stories from the people who share these recipes with me. I want to make this accessible in English and Spanish and hopefully Galician   |   |
| Ourense    | Other            | Bagpipe project   |   |
| A Coruña   | Other            | -Declassified survival guide. My proposal is to create a survival guide for living in Spain that will provide essential information and offer recommendations and advice to future students, grantees, and travelers who engage in intercultural exchange in Spain. In order for this survival guide to be a success, it is imperative for it to be easily accessible and comprehensive. -Biking project: "For my side project, I'd like to research municipal bike share programs in Galicia and create an bilingual online resource to share the information I collect." |   |
| Santiago   | Other            | -Word / phrase of the day (Frases Hechas page on Facebook) -Documentary project: "Please don't ask about my documentary": A Documentary-Virgin's Preproduction Experience  | https://www.facebook.com/Frases-Hechas-Spanish-Idioms-299803483966262/  |
| Pontevedra | Other            | Book with Galician recipes: "I've been taking Galician classes since September and have gotten to know lots of people in Pontevedra, so I was thinking I could ask them to contribute recipes and the stories that might go with them in Galician, Spanish and/or English."   |   |
| Vigo       | Other            | -Photography project  | https://recentmoments.format.com/palabras-na-pared  |
